Bio:

A former specialty model, now successful author, actor, media personality and filmmaker and TV producer, Iolande started her entertainment life early, performing in school musicals and winning her first film makers's award at age 8 for her animated short "The Care and Upkeep of Your Pets". She then followed that up with more singing and dancing, this time in the opera AIDA by age 17. She also appeared onstage again in the Spanish drama, Bodas de Sangre (Bodies of Blood). While theatre and stage acting was her first love she decided to pursue it from a different angle. She wanted to create music videos in the style of Russell Mulcahy, short movies to tell the music's story. So she opted to learn more about the music business and ended up working for Steve "the Woz" Wozniak's US Festival 83, also at age 17. This gave her the chance to rub elbows with, David Bowie, The Clash, David Lee Roth, Motley Crue, and the Oak Ridge Boys. She was also an extra in Lucky Numbers, with John Travolta and Lisa Kudrow and in the movie Wisdom, directed by Emilio Estevez (both uncredited).

Later this training would come in handy working on concerts for Arco Arena. There she would work with Bette Midler, R Kelly, Boys 2 Men, ZZ Top, Reba McIntyre, Janet Jackson and the late Whitney Houston. Iolande eventually became a floor director for "The Lighthouse", a series that featured gospel musical guests. After this she decided published her first book and began an Internet radio program called IVA Radio Tips and Tactics. She used the show to provide job search tips after the 2008 Stock Market Crash. Iolande decided to expand Dr. Ande Radio again this time to include authors, as many business and career specialist have published books. This was another way to help expose listeners to a variety of people from around the world they wouldn't get to see (or hear) otherwise. This attracted such notable authors as Sue Jaffarian, author of the Granny Apples and Odelia Gray Mystery. A later expansion put her back into music and entertainment drew the attention of American Idol's, Jessica Sierra; 60's rock sensations, Invictus; new animation producers Carlton (Piper) and David (Divine), creators of The Bullyvard Series and provocative author turned film maker, Lenon Honor as well as multi-Grammy nominated singer/songwriter, Skyler Jett, and award winning actor and hypnotherapist/author, James Mapes (Taxi Driver/The Wicker Man./The Wicker Tree).

At the close of 2012 she was asked to be a judge for the 4th Annual Vacaville International Film Festival and she was also a celebrity judge for the Global Beauty Pageant in April 2013. Currently she uses her Internet Radio shows and TV programs to promote authors, small business, publishers, Independent music and films. She has also returned to acting, and producing and is launching her own TV series (being reviewed for consideration by PBS). She will be working on a series of short films for the prestigious A Place Called Sacramento Film Festival in October 2013 as well as has plans to launch a larger scale international film festival in late 2014/early 2015 in the northern California area.

Testimonial

Iolande, aka, Dr. Ande had a vast wealth of knowledge that she shared to the residents about business startups and how to writer and publish a book in 30 Hours or Less. She was poised & professional when she visited Watercrest Apartments, to motivate the residents with job seeking skills during Resident Site Adult Services.

We cannot wait to have her come back again.
